History

Cedarville College was established on January 26, 1887, through the vision of five godly men who dreamed of a college that would provide Christian young people with an education that was offered within a spiritual framework. Affiliated with the Reformed Presbyterian Church, the College attracted many area students and built its first building, "Old Main," now called "Founders Hall," in 1895. Year after year, Cedarville attracted a record number of students and soon gained a reputation not only for its Bible teaching but also for its liberal arts program.

The turbulence of the first 50 years of the 20th century led to hard times for the College. Following World War II and one final attempt at revitalization, the trustees realized that the enrollment could not support expenses. The College would either have to find another church group to assume its operation or close its doors.

At that time the trustees of the Baptist Bible Institute of Cleveland, Ohio, were seeking a campus on which to expand. Hearing of Cedarville College, they visited the campus and were convinced that Cedarville was the site that God had chosen for their school. Upon mutual agreement by both trustee boards, ownership of the College was transferred on April 4, 1953. Cedarville College became a Baptist college of arts and sciences. James T. Jeremiah, the pastor who first suggested the Baptist Bible Institute-Cedarville College connection, was called to be the College's president.

Soon the College was alive and flourishing. By 1959, the enrollment had grown to 255. Faculty, staff, and facilities were added. Six years later the student body had nearly tripled to 763. By the end of Dr. Jeremiah's 25-year tenure as president in 1978, the College's enrollment had grown to more than 1,200 students.

Paul Dixon was then called to lead Cedarville College. Through his leadership, the College flourished in every area, with nearly 3,000 students, more than 100 programs of study, and many new facilities.

In April of 2000, the Board of Trustees voted to change the designation of the institution from college to university effective September 1, 2000. Under the leadership of the current University president, Dr. Bill Brown, the future looks bright for Cedarville University as it seeks God's continued blessing and enters its 120th year of service with approximately 3,100 students.

Profile

Cedarville University is a Christ-centered, Baptist university of arts, sciences, and professional and graduate programs. Since its founding, Cedarville has coupled a balanced liberal arts program with a conservative theological position in regard to doctrine and patterns of conduct. All classes are taught by dedicated Christian professors who integrate the knowledge of their respective fields with biblical perspectives.

In keeping with the liberal arts concept, the undergraduate curriculum centers on a basic program of general studies including biblical education, communications, global studies, humanities, physical education, science and mathematics, and the social sciences. Following this program, students choose a major field of concentrated study related to their abilities, interests, and career goals. Upon completion, students receive the baccalaureate degree. The University also offers graduate coursework.

Mission

Cedarville University is a Christ-centered learning community equipping students for lifelong leadership and service through an education marked by excellence and grounded in biblical truth.

1. To undergird the student in the fundamentals of the Christian faith and to stimulate each student to evaluate knowledge in the light of scriptural truth.
2. To encourage growth in Christian character in each student and to help the student accept responsibility for faithful Christian service.
3. To increase each student's awareness of the world of ideas and events that are influencing our contemporary culture and to prepare each student to participate knowledgeably in our society.
4. To enable each student to develop sound critical and analytical reasoning.
5. To provide sufficient opportunities for each student to practice the skills of communication.
6. To offer opportunities for academic specialization and preparation for graduate study and to assist each student in selecting and preparing for a vocation.
7. To foster each student's appreciation of and participation in wholesome avocational and cultural activities.

The Setting

Cedarville University is located on 400 acres at the north edge of the village of Cedarville, Ohio, a quiet town with a population of approximately 4,000. Founded in 1816 at the junction of two state routes, the village and its surrounding area have long provided a wholesome environment for learning.

This pleasant setting continues today. "Downtown Cedarville" features the historic Cedarville Opera House, two banks, haircutting establishments, post office, pharmacy, convenience store/gas station, a few restaurants, the ever-helpful Cedarville Hardware, and a coffee shop where many students like to relax and socialize with friends. Massie's Creek and an adjacent park offer hours of recreation, adventure, and reflection within a mile of the University.

Rolling hills and prospering farms border the village and University. This beautiful area, which extends westward to John Bryan State Park, has been recognized as one of the most scenic in the Midwest and serves as a popular spot for students.

Cedarville University is conveniently situated within easy access to shopping areas in the small cities of Xenia and Springfield. The University lies in the center of a triangle formed by three interstate highways, I-70, I-75, and I-71, and thus enjoys quick access to Columbus, Dayton, and Cincinnati. These metropolitan areas offer fine dining, professional sporting events, concerts, and employment opportunities.

Computer Network

Cedarville University is known nationally as a leader in campus computer networking and instructional technology, providing networked computers in each of the residence hall rooms, laboratories, and offices. One of the major advantages to the network, called CedarNet, is that students have access to over 150 commercial software packages directly from the residence hall rooms without going to a specialized laboratory.

CedarNet is a winner of the CAUSE Award for Excellence in Campus Networking. This prestigious national award recognizes colleges and universities that exemplify best practices in campus networking in higher education.

Equipment

The network features Intel or AMD computers with 1 GB or more of RAM, hard disk drive, DVD/CD-RW drive, USB ports, Ethernet interface, and monitor. In addition, each networked residence hall room contains an inkjet printer/scanner. All computer laboratories offer high-quality laser printers and flatbed scanners. The library computer laboratory also features color printers, digital cameras, and other specialized equipment. Cedarville is a participant in Internet 2, which means that Internet traffic goes over the fastest-available connections. Each residence hall room has two 100-Mbps network connections, for use by the University-provided computer and for student-provided systems. Students who bring their own notebook computers have wireless access in all campus buildings and in many outdoor areas.

Access

All students living in a residence hall benefit from 24-hour access to the network. Residence hall computers are replaced on a three-year cycle so that students always have current technology available. To enable students to take further advantage of the network, public laboratories are conveniently open to on-and off-campus students with a total of 180 stations available.

Wireless network access is provided in classroom areas, co-ed lounges, dorm rooms, and in large gathering areas such as the Centennial Library, the Stevens Student Center, and the Dixon Ministry Center. Wireless access is also available outdoors on campus lawns and athletic fields.

Benefits

Students using the network can:

- Communicate electronically on campus with professors, friends, and classmates, or with friends and family around the world.
- Manage, display, and analyze data using spreadsheet, statistical, and database software.
- Search library holdings for personal and class research projects, papers, or presentations, even when the library is closed.
- Access their course schedule, college transcript, or business office account.
- Learn to use the network through online tutorials and training seminars for commonly used software applications.

University Services

The University recognizes the importance of providing our students with a high level of support and provides a full range of student services including career services, counseling, and a strong orientation program for new students.

Career Services

The career services office seeks to assist students in determining their God-given skills and interests. Students use assessment tools to translate abilities, values, and aspirations into a plan of action for sound career/ministry decisions.

Career services provides materials for job-search techniques, resumè writing, interviewing, and gaining admission to graduate school. Interest inventory tests and a computer-assisted career development program are available to help students in determining majors and occupations. In addition to a career library, the career services home page (www.cedarville.edu/career) links to the very latest in network-based job search programs, guides to major employers, and directories for graduate schools.

Career Link Days are held each year to provide an opportunity for prospective employers to meet with students. Potential employers also visit the University for individual on-campus recruiting days. Video conferencing is available for employer/student interviews.

Registered students are placed in a job-match database that enables career services personnel to provide resumès to employers and publish them on the Internet. The office maintains credential files for all education majors and provides seniors and alumni with a reference/credential service.

Career Services Advisory Board

The Career Services Advisory Board consists of professionals from non-profit and for-profit sectors, other college career offices, and graduate school programs. The board meets annually to advise and evaluate Cedarville's plans for further strengthening the career and ministry placement services.

Counseling Services

The counseling services office provides a place where students can find understanding, encouragement, and counsel as they deal with personal, interpersonal, and spiritual concerns.

Staffed by licensed professional counselors, this service offers individual, 50-minute counseling sessions that work around each student's class schedule. Support groups that address specific topics of concern are available throughout the academic year. This service, for which students pay no additional charge, is offered by appointment. In the case of a crisis, the service is provided as needed.

Additional resources for counsel and guidance include the vice president for Christian ministries, faculty members, and staff members. Faculty advisors are particularly prepared to assist students in program and course selection.

Healthcare and Medical Services

Student healthcare is provided by University Medical Services (UMS), a full-service ambulatory care facility that provides health care services similar to a family practice office. UMS is located adjacent to the Doden Field House and contracts with several local physicians and practitioners so that health care services are available to students right on campus. UMS is staffed by expert physicians, nurses, and paramedics that love caring for young adults and are committed to providing quality health care. The services of UMS include physician and nursing appointments, physicals for athletics and ministry participation, academic physicals, laboratory services, prescription dispensary services, allergy clinic services, immunization clinic, and travel immunization services, to name a few. UMS also works closely with area hospitals and specialists to coordinate referrals for students to specialty physicians and for other medical services such as radiology testing.

Most services at UMS are free as a benefit of tuition, regardless of whether or not a student has insurance. Examples of free services include over-the-counter medications, equipment loans, and visits to see the nurse due to illness or injuries. There is a $15 charge for physician and nurse practitioner visits and a nominal charge for prescription medications, immunizations, and lab testing. Students will be given a receipt for any fees incurred at UMS, and any charges will be placed on the student's account. Because UMS is not set up to bill any insurance company, it is recommended that students contact their private insurance company or the student health insurance office for any insurance benefits to which they may be entitled.

Another health care service available to students on campus is Cedarville University Emergency Medical Services (CUEMS), a volunteer EMS ambulance ministry manned by students who are nationally and state certified EMTs and/or paramedics. CUEMS responds primarily to emergencies on campus. Also, CUEMS provides mutual aid to the Cedarville Township and the surrounding community when needed. The students who are involved in the ministry volunteer their medical expertise to the Cedarville University family and strive to demonstrate Christ's love and compassion to their fellow students in time of need. To learn more about the ministry of CUEMS, visit the following website: www.cedarville.edu/ums. For information about how you can become an EMT, refer to page 17.

Housing

Residence hall living is an integral part of the educational process at Cedarville. All single students under 23 years of age, except those commuting from the home of their parents or legal guardian, are required to live in University residence halls. Students 25 years of age and older must secure off-campus housing.

Approximately 80% of the student body lives on campus in University housing. Men and women are housed in separate residence halls. All offer convenient laundry and lounge areas and house just two students per room. Each room is fully furnished and "phone ready," permitting students to dial and receive calls directly. Every residence hall room is equipped with a networked computer and printer.

Housing assignments are made by the student life office. Upperclassmen who have paid reservation fees are given priority for reserving rooms. New students are assigned rooms after they have been admitted and have submitted their reservation deposits. Complete information concerning residence hall staffing, furnishings, and policies is found in the student handbook at www.cedarville.edu/studenthandbook. A student handbook will be mailed to new students prior to their arrival on campus.

Married students may find housing at Cedar Park, a University-owned apartment complex, or in one of many area apartments.

New Student Orientation

At the start of each semester, new students are provided with opportunities designed to facilitate adjustments to their new surroundings. The program includes orientation for parents. Special interest sessions, question and answer times, small group meetings, and social activities provide opportunities to adjust to a new environment. Placement testing may be required during orientation.

Vehicles

There are no restrictions on vehicle registration, however, for academic reasons, freshmen are discouraged from bringing a vehicle their first semester. Please understand that parking is limited and upperclassmen are given priority. All vehicles parked on campus must be registered at www.cedarville.edu/campusafety.

Chapel

Dr. Dixon, Cedarville's chancellor, has said many times, "The heartbeat of every Christian university is chapel."

Five days a week the Cedarville family and guests meet in the 3,400-seat James T. Jeremiah Chapel. At 10 a.m. the auditorium comes alive as the University family laughs, cries, sings, prays, and worships together. It is a place to connect as a strong family does.

Speakers from far and near grace the chapel platform to inspire and challenge. People like Dr. David Jeremiah, Dr. John Piper, Dr. Howard Hendricks, Rev. D.Z. Colfield, Mike Haley, and Carol Kent share personal testimonies or messages from God's Word.

Alumni often mention chapel as one of the things they miss most after graduation. Many return to sit in on one more chapel experience.

Student Life

Cedarville seeks to maintain a culture that reflects the values of the kingdom of heaven and the spirit of Jesus Christ. The student life program is designed to support this kind of environment and to contribute to each student's growth intellectually, spiritually, socially, and physically. In each of these areas, the University recognizes the relevancy and authority of the Bible and accepts it as the final authority for faith and practice. Core values that shape the culture include love for God, love for neighbors, excellence in effort, and integrity in conduct.

Spiritual Emphasis

The University desires that each student grow in his or her relationship with Christ. Consequently, students are urged to regularly practice spiritual disciplines including worship, prayer, and Bible study. Daily chapel services provide spiritual encouragement and enrichment. Additionally, all students are required to maintain regular worship at a local church and to engage in other activities that enhance their spiritual formation.

Spiritual growth is further encouraged through student prayer groups that meet regularly to pray for special needs. One day a year is set aside as a "Day of Prayer," a time when the entire University family gathers to pray together.

Community Covenant

Cedarville recognizes and values the Bible as an authoritative guide for how Christians should live. It also recognizes that God uses community and relationships with other believers to encourage growth. The Cedarville family believes that behavior, as individuals and as a community, should bring honor to God and reflect obedience to His Word. At the beginning of each year, all students are asked to affirm their desire to abide by the following Community Covenant:

- We covenant together to express our love for God through our obedience to the authority of His Word, our practice of spiritual disciplines, and regular expressions of worship and Christian service.
- We covenant together to express our love for others through acts of kindness, wholesome and uplifting speech, redemptive expressions of confrontation and forgiveness, merciful acts to those in need, and loving proclamation of the gospel.
- We covenant together to be people of integrity and self control, truthful in our speech, honest in our conduct, and morally pure in both thought and action.
- We covenant together to pursue excellence in all that we do as an expression of our gratitude to God and desire to be good stewards of all God's gifts, including our talents, time, and resources.
- As members of this community, we voluntarily submit ourselves to all of the guidelines in The Cedarville Experience and agree to uphold them with integrity and honesty.

The student handbook, The Cedarville Experience, is designed to help each student be successful academically, spiritually, and socially. It includes specific prohibitions to behaviors that are either sinful or harmful to this community, such as sexual immorality, use of alcohol, tobacco, or illegal drugs, and racial or sexual harassment. It also outlines some of the values that define and shape the culture here, including a simple dress code that seeks to remind students to dress and behave modestly and to take their academic work seriously. The Cedarville Experience can be accessed online at www.cedarville.edu/studenthandbook.

Christian Ministries

The Division of Christian Ministries coordinates all University-sponsored student ministries. Cedarville views individual ministry involvement as a vital and necessary part of each student's education and personal growth. Students are taught that biblical Christianity demonstrates a servant's heart in all areas of life. All are challenged to consider how their academic disciplines, interests, and abilities can be used to demonstrate their faith. Cedarville endeavors to stretch students' vision of ministry and develop a constant awareness of God's call upon their lives.

Directed by the vice president for Christian ministries and coordinated through full-time and part-time staff members, the Division of Christian Ministries provides training and assistance to the hundreds of students who volunteer each year.

Community Ministries

Weekly Ministry Teams

Cedarville University is located in a region known as the Miami Valley. The cities of Columbus, Dayton, and Cincinnati are close by, as well as hundreds of smaller communities. Approximately 80 teams serve the local communities and churches each week. Ministry teams seek to serve individuals and churches of this area by providing assistance in specialized areas, including crisis pregnancy/abstinence and counseling ministries, evangelism/urban outreach ministries, public school tutoring/teaching english ministries, youth and children's ministries, jail/detention center ministries, hospital ministries, nursing home/elderly visitation ministries, special needs ministries, and local church ministries.

Spring Break Ministry Teams

A number of teams are available to give students the opportunity to minister during Spring Break. Ministries include, but are not limited to, the following: Child Evangelism Fellowship (PA), Project Genesis (NYC), Inner City Impact (Chicago), The Master's Mission (NC), Open Air Evangelism (NYC), Shepherd's Ministries (WI), Urban Hope (Philadelphia), and Urban Impact (NYC).

Cross-Cultural Ministries

The University's own Missions Involvement Services (MIS) provides unique opportunities for students to experience missions firsthand. Each year during breaks and in the summer, more than 350 students minister around the globe. This involvement in missions aids missionaries in their work and helps students discern God's direction in their own lives. Participants raise their own financial and prayer support prior to leaving and report on their ministries upon returning.

MIS participants have served nearly 70 countries since the program started in 1970. For specific information concerning potential ministries and selection procedures, students should contact the MIS director, Brian Nester.

Students considering international careers in education often take advantage of the MIS program to gain cross-cultural experience while completing the student teaching segment of their education requirements. Students interested in this option should contact the education department for information and approval.

The majority of students who participate in the MIS program do so as members of teams. Created to perform a particular service such as singing, drama, puppets, medical assistance, technical assistance, orphan care, teaching English as a second language, or physical labor, teams are typically selected each fall. Students interested in team ministries should contact the MIS director for details.

Discipleship Ministries

While many ministries concentrate on "outreach" from campus, the focus of discipleship ministries is "in-reach" on campus. Opportunities include approximately 80 student-led small group Bible studies as well as several prayer groups. Discipleship ministries are excellent avenues for students to grow in their walk with God and find opportunities to minister to fellow Cedarville University students.

Touring Team Ministries

Teams rehearse approximately six hours a week and travel five weekends each semester and nine weeks during the summer. Auditions are held each year during the first week of school.

- Lifeline Players (six members) use drama to encourage and challenge youth and adults in their faith (team selection is held in the spring).

Selecting a Ministry

All students participate in Christian ministries voluntarily. As a result of the large number of ministries available, deciding which way to serve can seem overwhelming.

In selecting a ministry, students should apply the following:

1. Consider your interests. Select a ministry that allows you to do something you enjoy.
2. Consider your vocational goals. There are many ministries that are directly related to the majors offered at Cedarville University. A Christian ministry related to your chosen field can help you decide if you have made the right choice and in some cases may lead to an internship, reference, or employment.
3. Talk with upperclassmen. Find someone who has experience in the ministry you are considering.
4. Talk with the Christian ministries staff in the Dixon Ministry Center. The staff is available to answer questions you might have.
5. Attend organizational meetings, many of which occur during the first two weeks of fall semester.

Guidelines

1. All students are encouraged to participate in the University's volunteer Christian ministries program.
2. Students are asked to record their current area of ministry involvement each semester.
3. University-owned transportation or mileage reimbursement is provided for those ministries approved through the Division of Christian Ministries.
