Mission Statement

Our Lord Jesus Christ commissioned His followers to “go and make disciples of all nations, baptizing them ... and teaching them to observe all that I commanded you ...” (Matt. 28:19). The apostle Paul is an example of how the early believers embraced this mission and carried it forward. “We proclaim him (Christ),” Paul declared, “admonishing every man and teaching every man with all wisdom, so that we may present every man complete in Christ” (Col. 1:28). Indeed, over the centuries there is an unbroken chain of men and women who have found life doing the same. So it is the mission of the department of biblical and ministry studies at Cedarville University to stand firmly in that line of those who have faithfully carried forward Christ’s commission. With Peter we are convinced that it is Christ alone who has “the words of eternal life” (John 6:68).

As a department, we are privileged to carry out this commission on two levels. First, we are engaged in training men and women professionally and academically. Professionally, we want to equip graduates for full-time ministry in the church by preparing men and women with a theologically informed philosophy of ministry accompanied by the skills and experience needed to actualize it in the church. Majors that particularly facilitate this are Christian education, youth ministries, pastoral studies, world missions, and international studies-missiology. Academically, we want to inspire men and women to use their minds for the glory of God. We want to raise up a generation of scholars whose desire is to bring every thought into submission to Christ for the glory of God. Majors geared toward this purpose are comprehensive Bible, pre-seminary Bible, and philosophy.

Second, we have the institution-wide opportunity of influencing each student through the required Bible minor. On this level we endeavor to aid students from all disciplines in developing a distinctively God-centered world and life view. We believe it to be crucially important that all those who will be appointing the pastors and missionaries of the future, doing the work of the ministry, and serving God through their vocations know how to handle the Word of truth accurately.

To this end, we commit ourselves to facilitating the development in every student of a biblically based, theologically sound, philosophically defensible, and life-transforming view of life under God.

Personal Requirements

Students planning to pursue careers in vocational ministries should possess a commitment to intense study of the Scriptures, a heart for ministering to the needs of others, and a reputation for Christlike character, which would provide a platform for authentic spiritual leadership. In addition to classroom expectations, students should seek to gain as much practical experience in ministries as possible. Biblical and ministry studies majors find the opportunities provided by the Christian ministries program to be excellent avenues for applying truths learned in the classroom and developing necessary skills for effective ministry.

Department Requirements

To graduate with a major from the department of biblical and ministry studies, students must earn a cumulative average of 2.0 or higher and a “C-” or higher in all courses included in the major with the exception of Greek.

Co-Curricular Opportunities

Several organizations exist campus wide, which assist in the development of character and ministry skills. Many Bible faculty serve as advisors for these organizations, and our students are encouraged to take full advantage of them. For example:

Chi Delta Nu

Chi Delta Nu encourages students going into youth ministry through prayer, fellowship, and service.

Timilathians

Timilathians is an organization devoted to promoting critical thinking through philosophical and theological inquiry into issues central to the Christian worldview and our contemporary culture.

Career Opportunities

Graduate schools, professional schools, and seminaries welcome Cedarville University graduates. Careers pursued by graduates include:

- Bible teacher
- Camp director
- Christian education director
- Missionary
- Pastor
- Philosopher
- Writer
- Youth pastor

Philosophy

The philosophy major provides students with the rich conceptual background and analytical skills instrumental in developing a philosophically defensible, biblically faithful, and theologically sound worldview. Students will cultivate a healthy intellectual curiosity as they gain knowledge of the history of Western philosophy and an awareness of the contemporary Western philosophical scene. Students will also acquire the ability to read, state, discuss, and evaluate clearly and charitably major philosophical theories found in the various branches of philosophy. Finally, students will develop the skills necessary to read carefully and listen graciously to alternative worldviews as they formulate precisely and defend rigorously their own Christian worldview.

Preseminary Bible

The preseminary Bible major provides students with a broad, integrated foundation in the various disciplines central to a life of service in vocational ministry — philosophy, theology, ecclesial history, and biblical studies. Students will cultivate a deeper commitment to a God-centered vision of ministry by gaining knowledge of the issues, major voices, and methodologies necessary to responsibly engage past and contemporary discussion on the theory and practice of vocational ministry. Students will also acquire the skills of incisive and gracious critique, of employing methodologies and languages in a manner that furthers the discussion of the nature and practice of a life of service, and of translating theology into life and ministry.

International Studies — Missiology

The international studies majors are interdisciplinary programs (page 111–113) that prepare students for a variety of internationally focused careers. The missiology concentration provides students with a missiological view of the international community. Students will cultivate a deeper commitment to the global mission task as they gain knowledge in contemporary global issues, past and present mission thinking and practice, as well as the opportunities and challenges to doing missions in today's world. Students will also develop skills in understanding other cultures and living competently in another culture for the purpose of ministry.

Course requirements involve 21 semester hours of core requirements and 42 hours of concentration requirements. See the major: "International Studies" (page 111) for details on other concentrations.
