Things I have learned

I've learned that it takes years to build up trust, and only seconds to destroy it.

I've learned that it's not what you have in your life but who you have in your life that counts.

I've learned that you can get by on charm
for about fifteen minutes.
After that, you'd better know something.

I've learned that you shouldn't compare yourself to the best others can do but to the best you can do.

I've learned that it's not what happens to people that's important. It's what they do about it.

I've learned that you can do something in an instant that will give you heartache for life.

I've learned that it's taking me a long time to become the person I want to be.

I've learned that you should always leave loved ones with loving words.
It may be the last time you see them.

l've learned that when someone believes in you you can do almost anything

I've learned that you can keep going long after you think you can't.

I've learned that we are responsible for what we do, no matter how we feel.

I've learned that either you control your attitude or it controls you.

I've learned that regardless of how hot and steamy
a relationship is at first,
the passion fades and there had better be something else to take its place.

I've learned that heroes are the people who do what has to be done
when it needs to be done, regardless of the consequences.

I've learned that there are people who love you dearly, but just don't know how to show it.

I've learned - that money is a lousy way of keeping score.

I've learned that sometimes when I'm angry
I have the right to be angry,
but that doesn't give me
the right to be cruel.

I've learned _ that you should never tell a child their dreams are unlikely or outlandish.
Few things are more humiliating, and what a tragedy it would be if they believed it.

I've learned that no matter how bad
your heart is broken
the world doesn't stop for your grief.

I've learned that our background and circumstances may have influenced who we are,
but we are responsible for who we become.

I've learned that no matter how you try to protect your children, they will eventually get hurt and you will hurt in the process.

I've learned that your life can be changed
in a matter of hours
by people who don't even know you.

I've learned that credentials on the wall do not make you a decent human being. I've learned – that the people you care most about in life are taken from you too soon.

I've learnedthere are no shortcuts to any place worth going

I've learned-That God usually redeems us through our suffering not from it

> I've learned-Not to take myself seriously. No one else does.

I've learned-No one is in charge of my happiness But me.

> I've learned-To believe in miracles.
