Management Intern (Summer 2017)

Interns are treated like Management Trainees, and get an introduction to our daily operations, including customer service, sales, risk management, our P&L statement, and more!

Management Trainee

This entry-level opportunity is for those who desire a career in sales and who enjoy making decisions, solving problems and meeting goals. Our Management Training Program allows everyone to learn our business from the ground up and understand how they play a significant role in seeing it succeed. Regardless of college major or professional experience, nearly 100% of our full-time employees start out in our Management Training Program. The duration of the training program is driven by your sales performance and achievement of goals. You will receive classroom and on-the-job training in our Rental Operations in the following areas:

- Sales
- Customer Service
- Marketing
- Finance
- Conflict Management
- Leadership
- Training

Epic

Verona, WI

Michelle Higgins – Technical Recruiter

www.careers.epic.com

Technical Problem Solver

Create solutions where none exist. Solve meaningful, complex problems in healthcare. As a Technical Problem Solver on Epic's Technical Services team, you will directly impact the way over half of Americans receive healthcare. In this complex and evolving industry, healthcare organizations often need to push the boundaries of Epic's software to meet ever-changing user and regulatory needs.

Your technical skill will be vital to your success. With the help of our training, you will specialize in one area of our software, be it surgery, oncology, billing, or one of our other products. You'll learn the code and the details of how and why our software works the way it does and use this knowledge to dissect complex problems and determine the best solutions. You will be responsible for the continued success of a handful of clients from the moment they go-live with the software, guiding them and making recommendations to meet their goals, ensuring that they realize the full potential of our software. You will build relationships with your clients' IT staff during weekly calls and onsite trips. Using your team's tools, resources, and experts, you will research solutions for issues and be a technical lead for their larger projects that will ultimately impact the way they deliver healthcare. Your clients will rely on you as their technical expert as they refine the system, improving efficiency for clinicians and outcomes for patients.

There is no typical day here, and there is no typical career path. You can specialize in reporting to support evidence-based medicine, use your programming skills to develop new features with R&D, organize and host feedback sessions for physicians, grow into internal and technical management- the list goes on. You can choose your own adventure.

As you grow and continue to learn, you will increase your scope of impact from your first Epic client, to all Epic clients, to the entire healthcare industry.

Ohio Legislative Service Commission

Columbus, OH

Tynita White— Fellowship Program Coordinator

www.lsc.ohio.gov/fellowship

The Ohio General Assembly, through the Ohio Legislative Service Commission (LSC), has sponsored a legislative fellowship program for over 50 years. The LSC sponsors 23 - 24 paid thirteen-month legislative fellowship positions designed to provide college graduates with practical experience in the legislative process. This experience often leads to permanent employment opportunities in the legislature, state government, or related areas.

Traditionally, twenty fellows are assigned to work with the majority or minority party caucus in either the House or the Senate, with additional fellows being placed with the LSC research and fiscal staff and Ohio Government Telecommunications (OGT)/The Ohio Channel. Fellows assigned to a caucus normally engage in research, constituent services, writing speeches and news releases, and related administrative work. Fellows that work directly with the LSC staff draft legislation, perform legal or fiscal research, monitor sessions of the General Assembly, and attend committee meetings. The fellows assigned to OGT work as production assistants, where they assist in televising legislative sessions and in the production of public service communications.

The fellowship program begins the first week in December of each year and continues through December 31 of the following year. The application period begins January 1 of every year. The application deadline for the legislative fellowship positions is April 1. The application deadline for the telecommunications fellowship positions is April 30. The only eligibility requirement an applicant must meet is the completion of at least a bachelor's degree program by December.
