

2016–17 The Science and Faith Integration Scholarship Application

Deadline: February 12, 2016

Established in 2015, this annually funded scholarship supports the heritage of quality teaching and scholarship of the Department of Science and Mathematics by promoting excellence in student academic achievement. Specifically, the award is intended to encourage outstanding junior and senior students majoring in the biological or environmental sciences in the Department of Science and Mathematics. Each recipient should demonstrate exemplary academic achievement in the classroom and give evidence of a commitment to developing his or her profession of faith and science through participation in opportunities to apply knowledge (i.e., scientific research or significant involvement in science-related travel-study or short-term missions.) Candidates must complete the scholarship application and essay if interested in the scholarship. The Department of Science and Mathematics faculty selects each recipient.

I. Student Information

Last Name	First Name	Middle
Street Address	City	State	Zip
Email Address	Home Phone Number	Cell Phone Number

II. Scholarship Specific Requirements

- Junior or senior Cedarville University student (sophomore or junior student at the time of application submission) majoring in the biological or environmental sciences in the Department of Science and Mathematics
- Cumulative GPA of 3.3 or above on a 4.0 scale
- Evidence of progress or completion of scientific research or significant involvement in science-related travel-study or short-term missions
- Completed application and essay

III. Application Essay

Please submit with this completed application a type-written, double-spaced essay (500-600 words). The essay should address a contemporary, science-related issue in a manner that conveys your ability to integrate the natural sciences and biblical truth; or, provide evidence of your significant involvement in science-related travel-study or short-term missions.

IV. Return as Follows

Choose one of the following:

- Email: finaid@cedarville.edu (scan this form, save as PDF, and send s an attachment)
- Mail: Financial Aid, 251 N. Main St., Cedarville, OH 45314